of all the events in the manga, the manga most people remember, if not from their childhood, then from their college days, is the "summer camp" of hanamura. not only that, it was also one of the very first events one could attend. this story depicts a summer camp that students attend. students are required to live in the camp for about three weeks, including swimming, fishing, hiking and cooking. as the story progresses, each of the students develops a very strong bond with each other through their experiences. it also shows the sweetness of friendship between students, the blessings of nature and the importance of living in the present. look at the big picture. in an ongoing war between the state and the 'florida legislature' over who pays for the 5,000 new students, uf's chancellor, bernie machen, warns the legislature the students will be dropped by this fall. "our nightmare scenario would be for the state to become the guarantor of student loans for uf, not just next year, but for the foreseeable future. if that happens, guess what kind of students will come here?" it is time to start working toward the goal of a quality education for every child in the philippines. at the conference on quality education, gestion and the teacher professional development seminar, participants learned about the qe effort, and how to do qe planning and qe implementation in their own institutions. "we need a certain kind of support from our colleagues in higher education. we need a support from our government," said jaine c. barreda, a filipino math teacher in the united states, who facilitated the seminar.
