internet that.. for one to quickly create and edit EPUB2, EPUB3 and EPUB 3.1 ebooks. PGE2 induces Fas expression on human glomerular mesangial cells through the prostaglandin E2 receptor EP4. In this study, we investigated whether PGE(2) influences apoptotic cell death in human mesangial cells (HMCs) and whether PGE(2) receptors are expressed in HMCs. PGE(2) significantly increased Fas expression on HMCs, and the effect of PGE(2) was completely inhibited by two EP4 receptor antagonists, AH23848 and ONO-AE-248. Fas mRNA was also increased by PGE(2) in a dose-dependent manner, and PGE(2)-induced up-regulation of Fas mRNA was inhibited by AH23848. PGE(2) did not alter Bax expression in HMCs, whereas Bcl-2 expression was down-regulated by PGE(2) in a dose-dependent manner. A PGE(2) receptor antagonist completely blocked PGE(2) down-regulation of Bcl-2. These results suggest that PGE(2) through EP4 receptors increases Fas expression and induces apoptosis of HMCs.

QuarkChain Development Update:
February The development team of QuarkChain has been working hard since the middle of January to solve the unstable issues of the new state channels feature of the V1.0 version of the protocol. With the current focus of the team on the stable launch of the QuarkChain mainnet after the successful mainnet testnet, V1.0 wasn't the primary priority for QKC. Three things listed below are the main aims of the development: 1. Solve unstable issues of state channels In order to get more insights into the unstable issues, the development team has started the analysis and fixing of these unstable issues (such as the anomaly of the user wallet in the latest testnet V1.0). In this regard, many of these unstable issues were resolved and have been listed as V2.0, which will be the final release of the V1.0 of the QuarkChain protocol. So at the
