Here, we describe the use of functionalized graphene as a catalyst to selectively reduce the aromatic content of oil with a high degree of surface area and porosity. Surface modification of the graphene, to introduce hydrophilic groups, was achieved using the Stille reaction. Characterization of the as-prepared surfaces was achieved by X-ray photoelectron spectroscopy (XPS), and Brunauer-Emmett-Teller (BET) surface area measurements. The efficiency of the catalyst, composed of pure graphene (0.3–4.5 wt%) or modified graphene (3–25 wt%), was evaluated in terms of its ability to selectively reduce the aromatic content of the oils. Our data showed that the modified graphene shows a similar performance to that of commercial Pd nanoparticles that, however, it is less active than the pure graphene due to the presence of Pd on b7e8fdf5c8

The picture changes to the time every minute with a minute-by-minute display of the local time. The time is clearly outlined with an easy-to-read display so that the user does not lose track. The worst thing is that it tries to run a dialog every time it is turned on, so I disabled the dialog. The dialog came up with a bunch of questions asking me to "register or log-in" to a site with forms. I did not understand a word and have no intention to fill out any forms. I disabled the dialog. Now I can use the screen saver to just have the time on my screen, nothing else. 4.5 Out of 5 Abdication May 7, 2016 Box Clock Screensaver It has been a while since I took a look at Box Clock Screensaver. This little utility is a highly-rated screensaver that I used to enjoy. Sadly, I did not enjoy it as much as I used to. The application was a bit buggy.
