I need to get the text of lines with 2 tabs \t and then, remove the \t (\t) and everything before and after the \t (, \r, \). So far I found this: foreach (var line in File.ReadLines(sourceFile)) { if (line == "\t" + line + "\t") { line = Regex.Replace(line, "\\t+", ""); } File.AppendAllText(targetFile,line); } A: You could make an extension for File and use it to read the file in. public static class FileHelper { public static string GetPath(this File file, int startingIndex, int endingIndex) { string path = string.Empty; using (StreamReader stream = new StreamReader(file.FullName, Encoding.UTF8)) { string currentLine; var
