The Oculus Rift is one of the first, let's say the first big and successful project of virtual reality technology. Oculus Rift's advantages, to put it shortly, are excellent, offering all the usual first experiences: Owning a headset and being able to interact in a three-dimensional virtual world, which is also equipped with heads-up display and voice reactions. It is a very good thing, not so much that Rift is no more a released product, but that the TGV with which it was released has been upgraded more than once, so that the whole virtual experience can be

We have replaced the former flight simulator with an RPG / action game, and added various improvements and content. In this Alpha version, we have prepared a small demonstration that is just enough to enjoy, but are still unable to relax due to many issues that are likely to appear. We have tried to raise the quality of the game in the various elements from the ground up, and we hope you can play the game with a high sense of enjoyment. Please feel free to provide us with feedback on the in-game menu, when you acquire various items, etc. in an effort to improve it. The game gives the player access to all of the six continents and the Flats (a main line of transportation in the game), a group of islands separated from the World by an enormous sea, and the ability to explore them all. You will see a huge variety of items such as weapons, armor, and accessories. When you explore places and capture monsters and items, the experience system will be used to expand your inventory and then you can fight against other adventurers. In addition to the story mode, you can challenge other adventurers and the NPC characters, and share in the experience of battle. The purpose of this Alpha version is to allow users to enjoy the gameplay and use it to give feedback that will improve the final version. We will continue to update the game continuously in the future. ● United States ● Canada ● Europe ● Australia ● South America ● Asia 〈 ©2017 Shinyrock Co., Ltd. All rights reserved. What's new:

Rare RPG elements. To create a gameplay system that allows players to create their own fantasy action RPG story, we made innovations such as combining an action RPG and an RPG. • Endurance Battle System Intensive battles have fatigue penalties and count as a two-star event for the purposes of obtaining upgrades. By building up your strength and endurance, you are more powerful and gain different abilities. • Immersive Acting The voice and facial expressions of your character are involved in the story, complete with emotions and behaviour. • Customizable Characters You are the main character, and other characters are non-player characters. Your playing style influences the way they act and the way they move. You and others are depicted in animated frames.

Easy to learn, hard to master. The enormous amount of information coupled with the complex action play makes it difficult to familiarize yourself with the rules. The appeal of the game is its deep elements and amazing high-quality combat system. But at the same time, advanced users can hone their skills with complex tactics and move on to difficult tactics, as their system has been designed to expand in any direction.

Q: How to integrate the Line Integral of $\mathbf{F}(x,y) =(x,y,y^2-x^2)$ along the x and y axes? I'm trying to learn about line integrals and vectors. I've calculated the line integral of the vector $\mathbf{F}(x,y) =(x,y,y^2-x^2)$. I'm not quite sure on what I should be doing. A: $\mathbf{F}(x,y) = (x,y,y^2-x^2)$ is a vector field, it can be written as $$\mathbf{F}(x,y) = f_x\hat{\mathbf{i}}+f_y\hat{\mathbf{j}}+f_z\hat{\mathbf{k}}$$ $\hat{\mathbf{i}}=\left (\begin{array}{c}1 \\ 0 \\ 0\end{array} \right)$, $\hat{\mathbf{j}}=\left (\begin{array}{c}0 \\ 1 \\ 0\end{array} \right)$, $\hat{\mathbf{k}}=\left (\begin{array}{c}0 \\ 0 \\ 1\end{array} \right)$ are the basis vectors. How to calculate the line integral on the xy plane is like this: $$\int_L\mathbf{F}\cdot d\mathbf{r}=\int_{x_1}^{x_2}\int_{y_1}^{y_2}\mathbf{F}(x,y)\cdot\left (\begin{array}{c}x \\ y \\ 0 \end{array}\right)dxdy$$ You can also perform the integration: $$\int_L\mathbf{F}\cdot d\mathbf{r}=\int_{x_1}^{x}
