Its innovative and sophisticated functions include an integrated address book, calendar, to-do list, task list, notes/todo lists, personal finance manager, contact manager, and world clocks. Its human-centric design makes it easy to get started. Add contacts and contacts groups by simply double-clicking on a contact or group name, and search your contacts and groups by name, job title, company, or location. Once you've signed into your contacts, you can sort your contacts into folders and then drag and drop them to create a custom list. Completely customizable search box and filters allow you to customize your searches to precisely match your needs. With Ortype, you can create a dynamic to-do list using the power of categories and conditional expectations. Ortype's simple and clean interface makes it easy to enter, modify, or print tasks and notes. Ortype supports any group of users, ensuring that each user can easily access the same data from the same place. The task list is a vertical list of "tasks," labeled with the date they were created and a list of tasks that are still active. You can move or copy the list, export it to CSV, edit the dates, and make notes on the tasks. The Calendar integrates with the task list and comes pre-populated with all the future appointments you have setup, so your events always appear in the correct date and time slots.
