What's New In?

Uninstalling Winks from your MSN Messenger is as simple as uninstalling any other Windows application. But don't think that installing too many Winks is harmless, because the longer you have Winks installed the longer MSN Messenger and your computer takes to respond and also when you use MSN Messenger to chat, for example, when you have a live video chat, you will notice that your MSN Messenger becomes sluggish after installing too many Winks. Therefore it is recommended to uninstall Winks, even if you think you cannot do that manually.

Category Archives: Recipes I had heard of people making their own hair mask using only eggs, but it didn't turn out that way for me. I made mine using honey and water (found on the side of the jar in our pantry) and it's quite effective. Take the eggs out of the fridge an hour before you are going to use them. I have noticed that ... Continue reading →

We can buy lots of things for vegans, but it's not easy to find many products that don't have eggs, dairy, animal byproducts or preservatives in them. I was a bit frustrated by this, so I searched online to see if I could find a vegan version of my old standby pasta sauce. I was surprised that it wasn't too hard ... Continue reading →

I love teaching cooking classes, but the last few times I have done it, I have been working from home. I love being home, but I have gotten into the habit of making trips to the grocery store. As a result, I never get the time to shop for the ingredients for the class. After one class, I ...
