Hence, it is very important to develop more efficient therapeutic strategies for the treatment of ovarian cancer. Although stemcell-derived therapy have been found to be clinically beneficial, there are still some issues. It is believed that cancer stem-like cells (CSCs) are the cells responsible for cancer heterogeneity. The quiescent CSCs can survive in the long-lasting hostile microenvironment, which can lead to treatment resistance or tumor recurrence ([@B40]). In our study, we found that miR-490-3p is differentially expressed in the doxorubicin-resistance patients and that miR-490-3p was significantly downregulated in the DDP-resistant BOT-2, SKOV-3, HO8910, and A2780/DDP cells. On the contrary, we also found that the expression of miR-490-3p was elevated in cisplatin-resistant OC cell lines (SKOV-3/DDP and A2780/DDP) compared with the cisplatin-sensitive SKOV-3 and A2780 cells.

However, the exact role of miR-490-3p in the regulation of drug resistance in OC is still unknown. In this study, we found that overexpression of miR-490-3p in cisplatin-resistant OC cells dramatically decreased the IC50 values in the presence or absence of cisplatin. The formation of colonies was also inhibited. In addition, we demonstrated that upregulation of miR-490-3p expression in resistant cells significantly increased apoptosis. The pro-apoptotic proteins (cleaved caspase-3 and cleaved PARP) were upregulated, whereas the anti-apoptotic proteins (Bcl-2 and M

The Vikings (2-7) have given up 17 first downs, nearly 300 yards passing per game and are averaging an NFL-low 247 yards rushing. They also are out of the playoff chase. That's not exactly news around the Twin Cities. Or to the rest of the National Football Conference. Vikings players and coaches recognize that NFL Divisional playoff games are increasingly being decided by narrow margins. The 49ers beat the Vikings on Nov. 3 in part because San Francisco quarterback Colin Kaepernick threw for four touchdowns and running back Frank Gore had 28 carries for 223 yards. Kaepernick earned MVP honors. The Packers blew out the Vikings on Dec. 2 because they dominated the clock and gave up only one touchdown in a 41-21 rout. "Yeah, you've got a game that you knew was going to be really close and had a couple good teams, both teams were good," offensive lineman Brian Cook said. "But the (Packers) played a great game. I think they were just a little better. If we play the same game against Green Bay, we have a chance." Vikings general manager Rick Spielman has spent the past eight seasons with the b7e8fdf5c8
