Have you always wanted to be the ultimate ninja, today is your day! Our debut game Shadow Uprising is a post-apocalyptic stealth game that lets you live an open gameplay experience. Stealth is the backbone of Shadow Uprising. Simply by dragging the player's character onto any wall he or she can perform an angle-based flying jump that covers a great distance. This is then followed up by a traditional move where the player can lean to a certain side and hook onto a surface. The player is then free to move in that direction, making it easy to avoid detection from patrols. Using your ninja skills, the player can also climb up walls. Whether using hand holds, a grappling hook that attaches to anything with a nail, a grappling hook that attaches to anything with a nail, or a traditional rope grab, everything is possible. Shadow Uprising is a true stealth experience, with no enemies forced down your throat during gameplay. The Shadow Uprising is a solo experience unlike any other. Addition Details: Story: Players assume the role of a cybernetically enhanced ninja. Your goal is to seek revenge, starting with your own tribe's destruction. However, the plan is betrayed and you must leave the safety of your own city to infiltrate the barracks of the Shadow Uprising. The goal of the player is to help his/her ninja tribe regain its independence. Visuals: Shadow Uprising allows players to experience an open gameplay space that is free from any boundaries. The environment in the game is designed for total immersion in the world. Gameplay: Shadow Uprising offers two play modes, either the single player campaign or the open mode. The Campaign, in which the player controls a single ninja who must infiltrate the enemy base and help his/her tribe re-claim their lost independence.
