The download manager also helps you to organize folders, so you can sort, view, and delete files. For example, you can create a File Links folder, which automatically creates a list that you can sort and order by name or creation date. You can move a single file to a new folder, which creates a shortcut to that folder in your list. You can drag and drop files from the list or any folder on your computer to your download list. There are many ways to specify where you want to save a downloaded file. Your downloads folder and file-specific options define the location of your downloads; if you choose a folder in a different location than you have specified, the download manager automatically creates a symbolic link to the download folder, which gives you the ability to access downloads on any computer. The download manager is not limited to download files. It can also download websites if you so specify. It will even create and save the web page as an HTML file, so you can easily reuse it later. You can search websites for keywords, but remember that you will not always find the results you want, because not all search engines crawl websites on the same schedule. The download manager interface should not take more than a few seconds to browse the internet. It will automatically create a background process to facilitate finding and downloading. On slower connections or if you have a larger number of downloads, the download manager may take a little longer.
