The Winful Law Firm

References External links Category:Genome Category:Genetics According to the digest, the Landmarks panel has held an all-day meeting to consider the proposals for the 2nd and 3rd floors of the Shard development, and it says "It was not possible to reach a conclusion." As a result, the scheme, which did not receive sufficient support, has been rejected. The project's architects, Foster + Partners and structural engineers Rethink have now expressed their disappointment, saying that they would not have been able to submit a successful scheme to the planning process. Greenwich Council planning documents (PDF) allow for a total of 33,900 sq m of retail space on the site. Of this, almost 14,000 sq m is designated for use as a "shopping centre". Meanwhile, a total of 3,800 sq m will be left undeveloped, along with 2,000 sq m of offices and 3,100 sq m of residential space. image caption The new retail podium is designed to maximise the views from the site The proposed development is also seen to achieve the best use of the existing podium and podium leads, as well as adding a new basement level and extended retail space. Architects and developers have given the building a solid appearance, combining a new concrete frontage with aluminium louvres to protect the skeleton of the building. The external surfaces have been designed to maximise the views from the site. The addition of a third floor as an extension of the existing building also allows for the new retail space to be more easily accessed.Q: iPad: "Two UIViews inside of a UIView?" I am creating a game for the iPad and I have encountered a problem with navigation -- I am creating a game with many screens inside of other screens (like a paging system). I am having trouble finding a way to navigate to a new screen. The game contains more than 1 UINavigationController, more than 1 UIView, more than 1 UIView (I already checked). Also, the UIView's are nested inside of the UINavigationController. I tried calling [self presentViewController:myController animated:YES]; which displays the view fine and dismisses the controller but not until after a minute. I would like this to occur instantaneously. Is there any way to do this? I
