You do not have to create a new game! Instead, you can just install this "White Label" version of the game that was made exclusively for the people purchasing this game. Why should you do this? You can add all the updates, you can modify the looks, you can change the map, and overall add tons more features that will enhance the game for you! Features: Add graphic and/or audio updates, in case you want to make any changes in your game! A bunch of other features! White Label Version Instructions: (Make sure to read them before installing) Edit License File: In Case You Hack the game, if you need the name to be cleaned up, you need to edit the License File in the Game Dir. In case you install the white label: Uninstall the original file (kqlg.exe) and reinstall the "white label" version that will now be called kqlg_mod.exe Edit your steamapps\common\killer gin\settings.ini and find the "kqlg_mod_name" section and replace the name with the one you created before (for this mod, it will be kqlg_mod). If you made the game look "new", open Steam -> Install games -> Go to steamapps -> Common -> Killer gin -> Game -> right click on the game -> Properties -> click on the "Local Files" tab -> Browse local files -> paste the new files you just made to that path -> finish. You should now have a brand new Killer Gin game with your own updates! (7 hours of gameplay for the original game, 50+ hours for the new game) Instructions For "White Label" version: Download the original ini and key from the modding section from the facebook page. Double click the kqlg_mod.exe executable You should now see the ini file open in notepad in the Editor Mode. Leave the boxes on, and continue on with this tutorial by opening up Notepad and copy/pasting the text in the "Restore ini from original" box. After that is done, you should exit from Notepad, then right click the executable and click "Open With" -> "Edit with Notepad". Then, just paste the text from the original ini file to the edited ini file. If you made the game look "new", open Steam -> Install games ->

FortressCraft Evolved is a unique blend of Tower Defense, Voxel Landscapes, Crafting, Logistics, Exploration, Combat and Assembly lines. Players begin by crash-landing on a strange alien world, left with only a small handful of starting machines. Using hand-held scanners they must locate ore resources, place down Ore Extractors and Conveyors to automate the raw material back to the Smelter; take the fresh ingots through multi-machine assembly lines, followed by researching new technologies that help them explore thousands of meters below the planet's surface. An advanced HoloBase allows players to keep an eye on their factory which they must defend against waves of alien attacks with multiple tiers of missile and energy turrets. To survive they must continue to develop new and unique power systems, from Solar Energy to Jet Turbines, culminating in crafting an Orbital Energy Transmitter, thousands of cubic meters in size, to beam power off-planet, and start the next phase of the game. And all this runs on a custom engine with an enormous draw-distance, scaleable gameplay engine that is equally at home on high-end or low-end computers, and full multiplayer support! Experience the largest worlds ever seen in any computer game - ever! Create a futuristic mining operation consisting of thousands of huge machines. Full Tower-Defense style combat in a voxel universe. Use hi-tech machinery to locate and process resources from thousands of meters away. Explore thousands of metres vertically, overcoming ever-more difficult challenges. Official Texture Pack and Mod Pack support State of the art lighting and shadowing, utilising high resolution maps for machinery and environment Innovative "Build to Me" Feature to facilitate rapid, accurate building Super Build Tools allowing instant creation of primitive shapes "In a world where early access and indie usually means abandoned, unfinished garbage, this game's post-launch development is outpacing many AAA titles and companies." Key Features: • Industrial-Scale Voxel World • Cargo Conveyors, Ore Extraction, and Ore Processing • Thousands of Machines • Massive World • Advanced Machine Construction Tools • HoloBase-Style Observer • Real-Time Energy Design • Exotic Resources • Universal Multiplayer Support • Resources/Ore Excavation • Customized Weaponry, Armor, and Powering Systems • Build/Upgrade your Operation • Perfect Procedurally Generated Worlds c9d1549cdd

What's new:

"MP096" is a Tiger soldier that is mentioned in "The Empire Strikes Back". When he is firing at Baby Luke, Han uses code 096 to take him out. Maybe the same MP096 became Boba Fett's lieutenant? He was sent to kill Han Solo in the Falcon on behalf of Jabba's son, Taksa. Or maybe it was not the same MP096, but one of Jabba's men with that code. That same MP096 was also seen in the Rebel Base on Hoth. Apparently he was captured by Shmi Skywalker, and presumably let go after she fled the planet. (Interesting from a continuity perspective.) It is possible that the tiger warrior was a mercenary that worked for Jabba's troops. Note that there is no code name in that reference to any specific soldier; the things that pretty much all have are "0" for one of a standard format. It's not improbable, considering that the Jedi Temple has always been protected from attack by stormtroopers. However, this could also be the same mercenary that is seen later in The Empire Strikes Back during the fight in the throne room. Perhaps the evil plan hatched by the power hungry Anakin personally was to have the Cloud City attacked for some reason, and several elite units of the city guards executed to make it look like it's the work of the Rebel Alliance. The Stormtroopers would track down the innocent guards at a later time, while Anakin and Obi-wan would be enjoying their new slave Anakin has aquired, and is promoting to General. The Empire could have considered this an isolated incident, and worked to link the treacherous Anakin to this attack. It's conceivable that the "MP096" is the attack unit in charge of bombing Cloud City. When Anakin realized the bomb was defective, he gave a few renegade Commisioners the order to kill all resistance that was left. However, this story is made for both TV and a CG movie. The scene where MP is done by Han should not be in the animation and probably won't appear in the movie. It would be pretty lame if you fought the same opponent with two different units in two separate scenes. The only way that is reasonable is if they are two different opponents, someone defeated MP first and tried to kill Luke. And then this enemy tried to kill Han. Another time that a French or Russian
