Through lively and exciting combat, up-beat music, and beautiful graphics, you are given the chance to open up a new world and enrich your perception. The Events of the World that Were Laid Down in Myth You are already in the middle of the events of the world that were laid down in myth. The Kingdom of Seilel and the Land of Dawn were the two kingdoms between the present day and the time when the world was pure and the human race was still young. In these two kingdoms were also found the first Elden whose hearts were as pure as the gold of the Shrine of the Sun. After the Elden lost their purity, the Elden were hunted and destroyed until the emergence of the power that is the Elden Ring. After being punished for their faults,

One of the Elden left the essence of the Shrine of the Sun behind, and formed the domains of the Light Saint. However, the land of the High Countess of the Elden became a place where the shadows of misery and hardship lived and all the neighboring Elden fled. This new Elden continued to call itself the Elden Kingdom and hid the Shrine of the Sun in the depths of its ground. However, the light of the Shrine of the Sun never completely faded away and the power it had left behind, the Elden Ring, shone brilliantly. While not said so, CnS/As a player it hasn't been a great experience. The depth is sub par at times and incredibly inconsistent in others. The real issue is communications. You always have to contact customer support which in turn has delayed our game. The shitty dating sim lols (lol) skill tree makes it all run downhill... Since we had to develop our game; we loved it; it has its flaws; like speed issues that we'll hopefully work through in the next build. We have taken a break from the CUS so we may open up the game to return to a full stable of players. We are apart of SWF Q&A's now; our game has always been that way we were just absent from it for a while.
