

The new driver will have replaced the driver that was installed with the original device. We have created a DVD that contains the driver for your new Pinnacle device. Using this disk will install the new driver on your computer. If you do not want to install the software, you can use the driver that came with your Pinnacle device. Using this driver, you will not be able to view the contents of your camera. However, it will function as a Pinnacle driver. If you have a multi-device system that is using this drive, you will need to make sure that you remove this drive before plugging another device into the system. After that, you should immediately remove the driver disk and reboot the system. If you encounter a problem while installing the new driver, restart your computer and plug in the Pinnacle device. Turn on the device and see if the device works. If it does not, then you will need to remove the driver disk and restart the system. On the next page, you'll find a brief description of the original driver, as well as the version that you installed. You'll also find a general description of what the content on the CD should look like. Then, from the Control Panel, open the Update Tab and click Search for Updates. Choose to search for updates from the CD/DVD drive, then browse to the DVD that contains the updated driver files. We didn't try the other Ubisoft games because we have a copy of the game and the media. As for Microsoft, we already have a copy of 7-ZIP Platinum, but that wasn't installed with the Pinnacle driver and we had to download it.
