Fallout 4 Level Down Mod

the mod gives you the chance to ask companion characters to do things. you can ask their opinion on what youre currently doing, or just ask them to do a task. we asked godur to talk a bit more about his mod; here are the details. fallout 4 has a lot of ways in which you can attain weapon mods. you can take them from raiders you kill, but you can also find them scattered around the wasteland. it takes some time to collect all of them, but it isn't impossible. you had to kill them because they raised a fuss whenever you stole from the community. you had to kill them because they were stupid and kept trying to kill you. you had to kill them because they were behaving no better than raiders. you had to kill them because they were breaking the law. you had to kill them because they were getting in the way. before you take the mod, you will need to install the containers(found in the folder "mods". after that, you need to locate the "render" folder in the "container", then copy the files that are required for the mod. navigate to your mod's directory by opening command prompt(dos) and navigate to your "mods" folder, you will then copy the files to your mods folder and run the game there are different installations of the mod, and it is recommended to play in the console version because the first time you load the game you will have to go through a tutorial. to do this, type "fallout4" and select "play" in the console, scroll down and it will begin to show you some options to do with your companion. you can also type "givelemmyarm" to arm your companion with a weapon. when you're ready, type "quit" and exit out of the console.you're now ready to begin the game. you can also go to the inventory screen and equip your companion by typing "givelemyarm" then type "equip". you can also access your companions by looking under the "companion" tab.

if you like the popular crafting mods, but hate to build your own? that's the problem with mods. mods do not come with recipes for your recipes and it is not fun to get crafting mods and build your own recipe just to make a weapon that you can't use. search for acm and it will be added to your search list. open it in-game, load the file, and "new item" it to the players inventory. i have, of course, made sure that it has been converted to an item and that the mod is working properly. kit is the only character able to pick locks. however, her level and perk can vary, along with the difficulty of the locks she can pick. her availability increases with time spent in the wasteland. in addition to picking locks, she can also open a locked door with her lock picks, and she can also perform the same function using a crowbar. she is the only character who has the picking & lockpicking perk. catalyst has a greater variety of weapons in addition to his trusty crossbow. the player can choose between rifles, shotguns, and an expanding shotgun. the only drawback is his limited ammunition supply. however, this mod is a good replacement for the regular fallout 4 weapon variety, as some of the variation will be gone and the player can get away with a smaller variety. warning: the developer says that it only adds the weapons for the characters that were available in the earlier game, and not for all the characters from the more recent version, so this mod will not give you a full arsenal. the developer suggests that you use the scavenged weapons pack, which will give you all the weapons from both fallout 4 and the earlier fallout games. 5ec8ef588b
