While the web app is designed to be a replica of Photoshop for iOS, the web app has access to all of your files and iCloud storage. It's a real shame that it doesn't have access to the same export settings as the Mac app, and you can't save projects on your iPad for later use, but at this point the webapp is a must have if you like iOS. Now that Adobe is working hard to develop iOS apps that are 100 percent compatible with the Mac app, the day might be coming when the original Photoshop web app won't be needed. Adobe is aiming to provide an all-in-one Adobe experience across all devices, and the end result will be seamless, intelligent, and superb experience for everyone. Taking on the Windows OS scene, Adobe has also started to offer the capability to share apps and desktop files over a Local Area Network. Additional functionality such as iCloud sync is also up next for apps on Desktop and mobile. So it seems that Adobe will offer a web-based Photoshop app that's fully capable on iOS and Mac devices, but there's no telling when that will be? No matter what though, we'll continue to make sure you're covered until then, and we want to know what you think! In today's digital world, Photoshop plays as an indispensable tool to the designers and photographers. It's an all-in-one multipurpose photo and video editing and retouching tool. Since we have experience it from previous version of Photoshop, we can't imagine what "Photoshop Creative Cloud" can do.
